The Basics

What are Trusted Advisors?

Trusted Advisors are a small group of business owners and executives meeting monthly to address their business and personal issues from a Biblical perspective. They operate somewhat like a Christian Board of Advisors.

When do Trusted Advisors meet?

A Trusted Advisors group usually meets once a month for 4 to 5 hours (e.g. 11:30am-4:30pm), on a fixed date (e.g. the last Thursday of each month).

How many are in a Trusted Advisor?

A typical Trusted Advisor has only eight to twelve members. This size gives each man ample opportunity to present timely and important issues each month. The monthly expectation is that each man will receive godly counsel for important, pending decisions or actions.

Who leads Trusted Advisors?

In an effort to provide members with a truly valuable experience, each group has a trained moderator. The moderator is responsible for creating an environment that fosters openness, transparency and full participation by each man.

Must each member be a Christian?

Yes. The counsel given and received should be based on a solid relationship with Jesus Christ.

What is a typical agenda?

1. Devotional
2. In depth discussion of one member's issue
3. Discussion of issues facing the other members
4. Prayer

What are the commitments?

Upon joining Trusted Advisors, each member agrees to...

- Honor God in their business and personal life
- Be accountable to the Trusted Advisors group
- Be involved in the dialogue and in the other members' lives
- Financially support the CBMC Trusted Advisors ministry ($150/month fee)
- Attend faithfully and be on time to meetings
- Maintain strict confidentiality
